THE NEW GENERATOR SET

THE addition to the north end of the Beaver Street plant houses the largest power unit of its kind that we have. Due to increased demands for power in our Formation Department, the installation was made last April and since May we have had the use of the new generator set shown in the photograph on this page.

To get the basic facts the LOG interviewed Mr. Clarence Pratt, Maintenance Engineer, who has been with the Company for eleven years. Mr. Pratt tells us that the D.C. or generator end of the set rates 500 K.W. with a voltage of 650 and an output in amperes of about 1000. On the A.C. end the generator is driven by a motor which has a 725 horsepower capacity. It takes 4000 volts to run it. For the motor end of the set it was also necessary to install a 750 K.W. bank of transformers and a 300-foot power line.

The set weighs twenty-five tons and for the building in which it is housed 500 bags of cement were used in the foundation. It requires a floor space of seventeen by twenty-six feet.

All these figures go to show how increased business calls for far-sighted planning and large investments. The generator set is of General Electric design and was procured from the Springfield Street Railway Company in Springfield, Mass.

EDITORIAL

IN his Bunker Hill Oration, at the laying of the cornerstone of the famous Bunker Hill Monument on June 17, 1825, Daniel Webster said: "Our Proper Business is Improvement."

Webster was speaking of the proper business of the young nation, then but fifty years old. Such, however, is also the aim of every good person and of every company which is established on right principles. And such has been the daily ambition of the Sprague Specialties Company since its founding fifteen years ago.

As if to signalize this aim of constant improvement and the success which has attended adherence to high principles, the Sprague Specialties Company has had bestowed upon it an unusual honor. By invitation it has been made a member of an unique association—limited in numbers through careful investigation by men of high repute. For its business ethics, quality of product, stability and genuine service Sprague Specialties Company has been awarded membership in The Rice Leaders of the World Association. This Association was founded in 1912 to promote right principles in the conduct of business. We are proud to have been judged worthy of membership and will try to continue to merit the award.

All rights and privileges of the Association also apply to the Sprague Products Company through this invitation.

STEADY AS YOU GO!

When all the world is at loggerheads and things seem too black and stormy to see the way out, then is the time to keep a cool head and hold her to her course—to keep driving steadily at the particular job that is yours or mine, day after day, week after week. The player who keeps his eyes on the ball, and doesn't let the cheers or boos of grandstand or bleacher upset him, is the one who delivers the double play or drives out a triple-bagger when they are needed most. It's discouraging to try to see the whole problem of today's world turmoil at one time. It's impossible for any one of us to know many if any of the answers. But there is one thing we can do, and that's to set ourselves a true course, even though it be a rough one—and hold her to it.

SAFETY FIRST, LAST AND ALWAYS!

It appears that we have had an increasingly large number of accidents. Some of these could certainly have been avoided if every supervisor, from managers down, was more "safety-conscious." Aside from the production and financial losses caused by injury to an employee we should consider as equally important the inconvenience and possible suffering of the individual.

Some accidents are no doubt due to the large number of new employees who have come to us in recent months. On the other hand it appears almost certain that some could have been avoided. Normally we should look for a decrease as the new employees become more accustomed to their various duties and IF the supervisors are continually on the job in this respect.

Safety, quality of production and good housekeeping go hand in hand. Where poor housekeeping exists accidents are bound to increase and the quality of the work will suffer.

IF YOU BELIEVE IN SIGNS

Be sure to heed the various safety signs and posters placed in prominent locations to remind you to observe care at all times. Even when you are driving on a six-lane highway you have to be on the watch all the time. When you get on a narrow road you must be even more careful. When you get on a strange road and see a sign which says STEEP GRADE AND REVERSE CURVES you slow down and play safe... that is, if you believe in signs. Just stop and think for a moment. Would anyone take the trouble to write, print and post safety or warning signs except to help somebody else? Naturally not. Accidents help nobody and least of all the person who has the accident. Let's all set out to set a new record for freedom from accidents, large or small.

Notes from the Log Book

The Sewing Club in the Paper Rolling Department certainly deserves great credit for the beautiful layettes they made all last year. The members can feel sure their work was deeply appreciated.

From 41 Massey Street, St. Albans, Christchurch, New Zealand, comes a letter from W. J. Gopperth, who works for a chain store which sells Sprague products. He asks that we favor his little laughter, 14 years, by sending American or foreign postage stamps — air mail envelopes with stamps still on them preferred. Maybe somebody has some extras they would like to send direct to Miss H. R. Gopperth at the address above; or drop them in the Log Box and we'll see they are sent to her.

The Dry Rolling Department held a picnic July 16 at George Saulnier's camp.

JIMMIE (Can Shop) and RITA (Brown Street) COOPER celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary on September 1, 1941.

R. W. CARLISLE

R. W. CARLISLE, Indianapolis, Territory, Indiana. Attended Michigan State College for three years. On the Army teaching staff for the duration of World War I. Then joined the Michigan State Police for two and a half years. Next went with the Howell Electric Motors Co. He got that job when he stopped both the President and Vice-President of the Howell Co. for auto speeding. Later they offered him a job with their company. All that was 19 years ago. Married. Children: June 22, Marion 20, Beverly 13, Geraldine 15. His hobbies include photography, stamp collecting, sports, fishing, hunting, golf, tennis and the pasteboards. . . . Versatile, we say!

D. D. SCHNEIDER, Louisville, Ky., writes: "Sorry to disappoint you but have neither picture nor story. Have been in the Agency business since 1919. Sincerely, D. D. S." We take this brief word for the deed and extend hearty good wishes.

J. P. GOODMAN, Roanoke, Va. Territory, Va. and No. Carolina. In high school worked spare time as electrician's helper. Graduated Virginia Polytechnic Institute, 1912 as Electrical Engineer. Associated with Electrical Engineering concerns. For past 20 years manufacturers' agent. Became interested in Power Factor Correction and made contact fortunately with Sprague Specialties Company. Normal life with usual ups and downs. A baseball fan. Hunting and fishing in season, though pressure of business has cut to minimum in recent years. Hopes to take to the fields this fall and get his share of the large quail crop.

J. P. GOODMAN

G. G. SWANSON and FRED K. STONE

FRED K. STONE, Stearns, Perry & Smith Co., Boston, Mass. All New England territory except Connecticut. Apprentice courses with two motor manufacturers. Has spent about 30 years in the electrical machinery line. Married. No children. Hobby, scale model railroads. . . . And that's serious business; we know!

G. G. SWANSON, Stearns, Perry & Smith Co., Boston, Mass. Covers Maine, N. H., Vt., Mass. and part of R. I. After graduating from high school, 1905, worked in an office for six months, became interested in electricity and landed at Lynn works of General Electric on December 12, 1905. I. C. S. Electrical Engineering course. Students' course at General Electric, four years. Spent seven years in construction and sales work with General Electric, working out of the Chicago and Minneapolis offices. When younger, played baseball and football. Now "playing at" golf occasionally. Interested in flowers of all kinds, particularly roses, and gets a lot of pleasure and exercise in maintaining a fine lawn around his home. Married. No children. Has been with Stearns, Perry & Smith since they started in business, 1919.

THOMAS PELLMOUNTER, Johnson-Pellmounter Co., Kansas City, Mo. Territory, all of Kansas and western half of Missouri. Graduate Electrical Engineer, B.S. and E.E. Member A.S.H. & V.E. Also Masonic orders. Eight years electrical contracting business. Three years manager of electric light plant. Twenty-one years district sales manager for a large motor manufacturer. Past two years in own business as manufacturers' agent. Married. One son, T. V. Pellmounter, 27 years of age. Hobbies, camping, hunting, football and swimming contests, outdoor sports, bowling. . . . Sounds full of pep.

THOMAS PELLMOUNTER

J. E. KINDALL

J. E. KINDALL, St. Louis. Two years at Washington University in Electrical Engineering. First job as apprentice, Briner Electric Co., St. Louis. After four years' shop experience, spent eight years rebuilding power house equipment and installing same in Southern Illinois and Missouri. Then superintendent of repair shop for E. M. Koeneman Electric Co., and in charge of installations of all power equipment for industrial and power plants throughout United States. Last four years with them on motor sales led to becoming a manufacturer's agent for past six years. Married 21 years. Hobbies, fishing and collecting old motors. Nothing over three h.p. . . . How will you swap or sell?

FRED A. BENNETT, Detroit, Mich. Covers Michigan and Lucas Co., Ohio. Born New York City. Attended N. Y. Electrical Institute. Apprenticeship Crocker-Wheeler Plants, N. J. Advanced engineering Columbia Univ. After some experience in construction and engineering fields became Chief Engineer, American Gas and Electric Co., Cedar Valley Div. Similar position Kellogg Co. Then later became factory agent. Got experience with Detroit agent and now on his own and proud to represent Sprague Specialties Company. Married. Greatest hobby is the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and its work for crippled children. . . . We salute you.

FRED A. BENNETT

Introducing LAURENCE G. WHITE
Sales Manager of the K. V. A. Division

The LOG takes this opportunity to greet Mr. White officially and to extend him best wishes for success in his new duties. He has lived until now over ninety per cent of his life in New York City. Prior to assuming his new position at the home office, he was Connecticut representative for the Sprague Specialties Company, K. V. A. Division. He graduated from Cornell University in 1928 with the degree of Electrical Engineer. He was with the New York Telephone Company on line construction 1928-1936. From 1936-1939 he was engaged in specialty lighting work. The past two years have been spent in Electrical Sales work.

In an interview with the LOG he confided that on the whole, life had been uneventful. But further questioning uncovered that his great hobbies are baseball, golf and cross-word puzzles. He also admitted to having been an expert lacrosse player, and that's plenty strenuous if you've ever tried it. Once you talk with Mr. White you are confident he is just the man to have at the helm of the good ship K. V. A., as he sets its sales and steers its course on present and future non-stop voyages.

As several K.V.A. representatives were unable to supply photographs or brief biographies in time for this issue, we publish their names below and hope they will favor us with material for our next K.V.A. issue some time later.

IRVING M. DAY, Washington, D. C. Territory, Washington, Baltimore. Williams College, A.B. 1916. Union College, E. E. 1918. G. E. Test!! Thirteen years with General Electric, Schenectady, Philadelphia, Washington. 1931 started own business as Mrs. Rep. Married. Children, Margaret (A.B. Univ. Maryland '41), Irving 18, Hartley 14. Principal hobby, amateur dramatics. President of The Montgomery Players, an outstanding little theatre group in Washington area.

JOHN G. CORRIN, Los Angeles. Territory, Southern California. Married 21 years. In spite of troubles "raising father," wife is active in Univ. affairs, lecturer, and an accomplished organist. Son has finished two years Stanford Univ. and six weeks R.O.T.C. training, Field Artillery. J. G. has crossed deep sea fishing off his list but keeps up interest in Naval and Military affairs, collaborating in Southern California with military and civic authorities on National Defense.

J. E. BROWN, Industrial Equipment Co., Houston, Texas. Graduate of Texas A. & M. Spent several years with Humble Oil and Refining Co. Once he worked on a twelve-hour shift for eight weeks oil well drilling on a job which lay 45 miles by boat trip each day off the Louisiana coast. He started the Industrial Equipment Co., Inc., in 1937 and has spent most of his time ever since explaining to Eastern sales managers the fact that Texan places of note are located two hundred to three hundred miles apart. Married. One daughter, Linda, age six. Hobbies are business and occasional golf game.

A. H. BARTH, Industrial Equipment Co., Houston, Texas. Graduate Colorado University. His first job was with the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. in Pittsburgh. Then he spent several years with U. S. Electrical Motors, Inc., Los Angeles. Next, two to three years with Square "D" Company in Los Angeles and Houston. It was in the latter city that he joined Industrial Equipment Co. in 1939. Married. Pearl 14, Nina 13, Carl 3. His hobby is playing with the three kids. Also devotes much time to the Shrine and in working up gadgets to use in putting the boys through during initiations.

D. L. GLIDDEN, Industrial Equipment Co., Houston, Texas. Attended Texas A. & M. Knocked around in sales field. Several years with Goodrich Tire & Rubber Co., last job with them as contact representative handling major oil companies in eight southern states. So now he likes idea of one place to call home and getting his teeth into "The Sale of Electrical Equipment." Married. Del Loran 12, Jackie 8. Hobbies, golf and "riding herd" over two boys who (confidentially) are about to get the upper hand.

F. I. WOLTZ

MR. F. I. WOLTZ, with E. A. Wilcox Company, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Graduate Penn State in E.E. Member A.I.E.E. Industrial Sales for Metropolitan Edison Co., Easton, Pa. ten years, following sales work with utility companies. Has developed important studies on capacitor installation and other subjects. Married. No children. Photography chief hobby. Gave up golf some time back as it did not respond to published theories.

WARNER JONES, Pres. and Treas., Warner Jones Sales Co., Cleveland. Territory, Ohio, Ky., W. Va. Offered us medal to read three-page story "all through." We did. If friend Jones sends photo we'll publish the most interesting biography in many moons. Says: "Owing to fact I was born in 1877 you can appreciate what I look like. Can still run five hundred yards without puffing—much. Can still play 18 holes of golf and then walk five miles for exercise... just a tough old bird." Married. Two daughters, Mrs. John Allen and Miss Dorothy Ellen Jones. Two grandchildren, Dorothy Ann Allen and James E. Allen. . . . Send photo (any vintage). Thanks.

SOFTBALL TEAM CLINCHES THIRD PLACE

Reported by S. L. Gamari

As the final half got under way Sprague lost to Y. M. C. A. 8-4. Nel Roy socked a homer for the losers. Sprague then battled Corner Cafe to a 3-3 tie. The longest clout was by Hank Gamari. Next Simons took Sprague's measure 11-2 and Corner Cafe won the playoff 9-4. Hank Gamari collected three hits and D. Sanecki poled out a triple for Sprague's.

Sprague then took over the "Y" 5-3 with Hank Gamari pitching. McKinley Square, first half winners, were walloped by Sprague's 8-1. "Dudy" Sanecki smacked a homer while Zoltec got three bingles. While the lads were in a winning mood they defeated Simons 11-4, with Zoltec again getting three hits. Then the boys handed McKinley a jolt with 6-1. Pat Sanecki socked a triple to score three runs.

The winning streak ended when Y. M. C. A. won over Sprague 5-2. Ted McConnell batted in both runs with a lusty triple. For the second time Sprague and Corner Cafe tussled to a tie at 10-10. Hank Gamari hit a three-run homer. Every member of the team secured at least one hit.

League standing as we go to press is: Corner Cafe, .833; Y. M. C. A., .667; SPRAGUE, .583; McKinley, .417; Simons, .250.
